Individual Deliverable 4

I, Kennan Lu, have read this report and attest that the contents are true and correct.
I, Mustafa Bookwala, have read this report and attest that the contents are true and correct.

For this final individual I made contributions to helping develop the screens on the project. I helped develop the profile screen, message screen, home screen, and my ride screen. After developing the screens to match the figma design I focused on helping connect back the screens to the SQLite database. I also helped develop the README file describing how the project works and how to run our application. All this involved writing code, reading documentation, testing code, etc. After all that I helped clean up the project to be more professional and scalable for future development.

My contribution evidence is on the second page and I attached the link to the GitHub Here:
